CHAIRMAN THOMAS EXPLAINS
NEED OF MUNICIPAL BOND ISSUES.

Gives Figures to Back Up His Arguments in Favor of the Financial Plan Outlined by Council.

THE SENTIMENT GENERALLY

Among the Taxpayers Appears to Be Favorable to the Two Issues and Especially to the $35,000 Asked for to Refund Existing Debt.

Chairman W. H. Thomas of the Finance Committee of Town Council has prepared a statement in which he explains his attitude towards the bond issue. As a Councilman, and for the last two years Chairman of the Finance Committee which has been in intimate touch with the business end of the borough, Mr. Thomas is in favor of passing both bond issues. He says: "The $35,000 issue should be approved for the good reason that we owe the money for value received and the debts cannot be paid without the proceeds of this issue of bonds. If the bonds are not issued we will be compelled to satisfy our creditors by the renewal of certificates, which will require $35,000 worth at 6% interest, which means $1,800 a year for interest alone. We hope to float the $35,000 bonds at 4%, which will cost, to carry, $1,100 a year, a saving of $700 per annum.

"Some of our creditors have been promised their money this year contingent upon the passage of the bond issue. If the funding issue fails, we will have several suits to defend, with costs added. Not only will these costs increase the expense, but the good standing and credit of the town will be injured.

"The $25,000 bond issue for street improvements should be approved, for without this money it will be impossible to improve the streets which have petitioned for paving and others which will present petitions during the year. By having the money at hand for street improvements before the work is done we can save the taxpayers money in several ways. First, the bidders, knowing they will be paid when estimates are furnished of the work done, will bid lower as they will not be required to have any paper discounted to meet their obligations while the work is progressing. We should get the benefit of this item of expense, which invariably comes from the borough funds.

"Can these bond issues be carried without an increase in taxation to carry and refund them on maturity?" "The valuation for taxable purposes is now $1,077,000. The millage for the general fund is now 3 mills, which will produce $32,310, allowing a 10% discount for commissions, exonerations, etc. The receipts on account of the Durkee office will not $2,500 and this, added to the $26,000, makes $30,000. The fixed charges for the borough at present for all purposes will average $23,000, leaving a balance from the proceeds of the fund amounting to $7,000. The entire bond issue of $60,000, at 1% will cost $2,100 a year to carry.

"By taking one mill from the General Fund and adding it to the Sinking Fund to protect the bond issue and $1,800 will be produced, $2,100 to pay the interest and $2,100 per year to pay the fund to pay bonds at maturity. We could make the General Fund 6 1/2 mills and the Sinking Fund 1 1/2 mills for this issue and get along easily as we would have our extraordinary expenses provided for. The General Fund could then be applied strictly to current expenses of the borough. As the outstanding bills collectible are exactly $1,000, this amount added to the General Fund puts that fund on a solid basis."

Sentiment on the streets and among the business men shows that but little interest is being manifested in the coming election next Tuesday, when the bond issues will be either approved or rejected. Those who have given the matter some little thought are inclined to favor both propositions. There is an undercurrent of skepticism, however, and practically all of those who expressed a favorable opinion towards the issuing of bonds qualified it with the hope that the money would be spent for the purpose intended. A man prominent in banking circles said today:

"The proposition to pay off the existing debt is good business. That is, it should carry. As for the other, I am inclined to favor it, but past experience has shown only bad business management on the part of Town Council.

"The people should approve both bond issues but they should serve notice on Council that it must put an end for all time to the reckless methods of financing that have prevailed in the past. Little encouragement is offered the taxpayers to approve a bond issue for street improvements when so much money has been lost in the past just because the property owner's share of the cost was not collected.

"Town Council must cease spending money that it does not have. It must put an end to reckless extravagance in purchasing things it cannot pay for. The trouble is that the business of this town has outgrown the men handling it. The Town Council spends in the neighborhood of $50,000 a year and this vast sum should be disbursed wisely. There is not the slightest excuse for the borough being in debt. The money it receives in taxes each year is sufficient to meet all needs if it is handled wisely.

"Men should be elected to Council and the School Board who do not have personal interests at stake. There has been in the past too much of a tendency on the part of borough officials to forget they represented the people and not themselves."

"Why don't they collect for street paving already done?" remarked one man who favors the $35,000 bond issue to cancel existing indebtedness but is against the street improvement plans. This man thinks Council has not observed proper business methods in its past municipal improvements.

For the most part, however, sentiment seems to favor both bond issues; approves the $35,000 issue because the debts should be paid and interest saved, and the $25,000 issue because paved streets are a big thing for any town.

"Quit wasting money on back alleys and pave the residential thoroughfares," remarked one.

Among others interviewed, one wanted to be "shown" where the money would be spent in paving streets; another expressed fear that there might be "graft" in handling so large a sum; while those opposed to the issue for street improvements expressed themselves in favor of the movement if the streets to be improved were specified and that the improvements would be carried out according to the schedule prepared in advance.

There are also many taxpayers who want to be assured that several items included in the list of the borough's indebtedness, which are not valid claims, will be refused payment.

Myers Passes and Enters
Navy Today

A telegram was received this morning announcing that William H. Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Myers of the South Side, successfully passed the physical examination at Annapolis and will be sworn into the service today, beginning his six year course of naval training.

Young Myers will not be allowed to return home for 11 months. After graduating from the fourth year class, where he is known as a "plebe," vacations are granted annually.

Myers will spend four years at the Academy and will then be assigned to sea duty for two years as a midshipman. He will then be qualified to enter the service as an Ensign.

Aeronaut Broadwick Supplies
Thrills For Big Audience Here.

Charles Broadwick made the second sensational balloon ascension of the week from the curatorial grounds yesterday and met with thrills for thousands of spectators on both sides of the river. The weather conditions last night were ideal. There was practically no wind and when the big balloon was released it shot upwards almost in a straight line.

When the gun was fired from the ground to warn the aeronaut when to descend he was so high that he did not apparently hear the warning. The gun was then fired twice, and in an instant Broadwick began his descent. He had dropped a couple of hundred feet when his parachute seemed to collapse. The crowd of spectators gasped as the man shot towards the earth like a stone and there was an involuntary movement towards the point he was expected to

BLAME SHERIFF FOR LYNCHING OF DETECTIVE AT NEWARK DURING NIGHT; TROOPS IN CONTROL NOW.

State Officials Say Sheriff Should Have Called Troops Earlier but Instead Permitted Mob to Work Two Hours on Jail—Witness to Lynching Drops Dead From Excitement. Threats Made Against Other Detectives, Who are Released and Leave Town.

United Press Telegram.

NEWARK, N. J., July 9.—Newark is calm today following the lynching of Carl Etherington, the Anti-Saloon League's detective who shot and killed William Howard, proprietor of the "Last Chance" restaurant and formerly chief of police. Howard was shot during a raid upon an alleged "speakeasy" yesterday afternoon and died last night. The county jail was stormed and Etherington lynched.

Governor Harmon, who is spending his vacation in Michigan, has wired instructions for an investigation into the affair and both the city and county officials will probably be under fire. Adjutant General Weybrecht, Col. Barker, commanding the Fourth Regiment, and Lieutenant Chamberlain of Troop B arrived today. They will investigate the lynching.

It is improbable that the State troops will be called out. The main mob dispersed after the lynching but excited crowds remained this morning and threats were cowardly made against the eight other detectives. The arrested detectives were released and hurriedly left town.

No arrests have yet been made. The coroner's jury found that the death of Carl Etherington, the lynched detective, was due to "strangulation." The body was covered with contusions and it is believed the man had been seriously injured before the scene of the lynching was reached. These injuries, however, were insufficient to cause death.

Relic hunters were early on the gruesome scene. The telephone pole from which Etherington's body hung, was cut down and hacked to pieces.

The State officials blame Sheriff Linke for the lynching. Adjutant General Weybrecht says the mob worked on the jail for two hours. If the Sheriff had called the troops earlier he could have prevented the lynching.

William Patrick, who witnessed the lynching, returned home this morning and dropped dead from heart failure as a result of the excitement.

Harlow Etherington, a prosperous farmer living near Williamsburg, Ky., says he believes his son was the victim and will come here to claim the body.

Etherington, after being jailed yesterday, said:

"I didn't know what I came here for. A Cleveland agency on April 7 employed me as a strike breaker and sent me to Columbus. Friday the bunch was not here and until we arrived I did not know what we were going to do. I shot in self defense."

County Prosecutor Symthe today applied to Judge Charles W. Seward for a special Grand Jury to investigate the lynching.

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., July 9.—Following a spectacular and thrilling flight across Plum Island meadows today A. L. Pfizer of New York, flying at the height of 75 feet in a Burgess bi-plane, was hurled into Plum Island river.

The machine exploded in adverse air currents. It is feared the aviator was injured internally.

Section Hand
Killed on B. & O.
by Fast Train

Ilario Circosta, an Italian employed on the B. & O. section gang, was killed instantly yesterday afternoon at Bidwell by D. & O. train No. 15. Circosta was working along the track when a east and west bound train approached, becoming confused he stepped from the track to avoid being run down by the eastbound train and as the result was run down by train No. 15. Both of his legs and arms were severed from his body and his skull was fractured.

His remains were placed on train No. 15 and brought to Connelville and removed to Funeral Director J. E. Sims' undertaking rooms and prepared for burial. Circosta had been in this country for about two years and has no relatives here. He was 25 years old. The body will be removed to Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Italian Church this afternoon where services will be held at 4 o'clock. Interment in the new St. Joseph's Cemetery.

BOMB OUTRAGE.

Dinner Guests of Spanish Politicians are the Victims.

MONOVAR, Spain, July 9.—(Special.)—Over a dozen aeronauts were made today in connection with a bomb outrage. Two of Don Gallardo's dinner guests were killed in the dining room. Twelve persons, including the host, himself, were injured in the explosion.

Gallardo was a prominent banker and a Conservative politician.

Change Voting
Place in the Fourth Again

The voters of the Fourth Ward will have another voting place on Tuesday. Shifting the polling place has become a habit in the Fourth. Last spring the polling place was changed, without notice, to the room adjoining the Daily News. To have things in proper form, a petition was circulated and presented in court yesterday making that room the official voting place.

It was later learned that this room could not be secured and now a petition is being circulated petitioning that the polling place be changed to the old stone house on East Main street near Prospect.

The Fourth Ward voters cast their ballots in the stone building on several occasions. Chief of Police George Hotzel is circulating the petition.

Hot Wave is Still Here; 85
Mark at Noon

Only the cool breezes which blew fitfully from the mountains prevented suffering from the heat today. The mercury early began its upward climb and by noon had risen from 73 to 85. It is probable that a new high mark will be established before the afternoon is over.

Yesterday the heat was also intense, and the average temperature for the week has been high. Yesterday when the temperature was 83 at 5 o'clock.

BLACK TO DEMAND
A DALZELL AUDIT.

Campaign Expenses of Pittsburgh Congressman Are Now Under Fire.

ARGUE TO RECOUNT THE VOTE

Dalzell's Attorney Declares Black Does Not Bring Contest in Good Faith and Makes Him Admit He Will Not Support Dalzell.

United Press Telegram.

PITTSBURGH, July 9.—The County Commissioners today heard arguments for and against opening the ballot boxes in the Thirtieth Congressional District.

Attorney Hunter, representing John Dalzell, declared that Dr. J. F. Black did not bring the contest in good faith but merely sought an excuse to become an independent candidate for Congress. He asked Black if all the ballot boxes were opened and Dalzell won the nomination, would he support Dalzell. Black replied in the negative.

Black declared that the Dalzell people are only making a play for time in order to "fix" the boxes and remove evidences of fraud.

Dr. Black announced to the newspaper men that he will enter court to demand an audit of Dalzell's campaign expenses. The Commissioners will decide on the arguments Monday.

TWO NEW PATIENTS

Were Received in Past 24 Hours at Cottage State Hospital.

Two new patients are at the Cottage State hospital. James Donald has several fractured ribs resulting from a fall. Donald told the hospital nurses that he fell from the roof of a house in South Connelville.

Albert Ann of Brownsville was operated upon for an abscess yesterday at noon. Ann is 21 years old and contracts a fruit store at Brownsville.

Ebert's Warning.

Humano Officer Howard Ebert has issued a warning to all persons handling poultry. He gives them until July 11, to comply with the law, after which he will prosecute.

The lawful height of coops has been advertised; they must not be crowded; all poultry must be protected from the sun and have plenty of water.

Clad in Nature's Garments Only
Lad Paddles Down Green Street.

The sight of a youngster some five years old paddling down Green street yesterday clad only in nature's garments and without so much as a fig leaf to hide his nudity, a bundle of soiled garments under his arm, shocked some residents of upper Green street yesterday and furnished others with considerable amusement.

The frolics and fancies of childhood take fantastic turns at times. The lad was ashamed to hike home in soiled clothes, so offered an unusual display of the nude.

With several other youngsters the little fellow decided to go bathing yesterday. The other boys, all about the same age, discarded their garments but the one young hopeful decided undressing was too tiresome a task. He plunged in with his clothes on.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 9.—(Special.)—Twenty-five thousand Turkish troops are today en route to Ellason on the Grecian frontier to protect the Turkish interests from the ravages of Greek raiders.

The Turkish government denies that they are attempting any reprisals against Greece. Unless something happens soon to settle the matter war is expected to be the result.

Ministers are Silent Regarding Picture Crusade

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, July 9.—The scheduled meeting of the ministers of Uniontown to protest against the Jeffries Johnson fight pictures, was held yesterday afternoon at the Methodist Episcopal Church on Church street. Dr. J. B. Risk, the pastor of that church, and President of the Fayette County Sabbath Association, was in charge.

No particulars would be given out this morning, as the arrangements are not completed. It was decided before hand that it would be best for each city to make its own crusade against the films, which explains the fact that only Uniontown ministers attended yesterday's meeting.

As the result of yesterday's conference, the District Attorney and Burgess will probably receive communications from the association, protesting against the exhibition although there will be trouble of no kind from local theatre managers, as all have signified their intention of not showing the pictures.

WILL BE DOUBLE TRACK

Plans of the Baltimore & Ohio Are To Provide Better Facilities at Somerset For Freight Tonnage Arising on the Somerset & Cambria Branch.

Yesterday the first active work on the new lines of the B. & O. railroad in Somerset county was commenced at Husband, about three miles west of Somerset. The Byro-Shoemaker Company, Incorporated, of Philadelphia, is the firm which has secured this contract and they already have several hundred men on the ground under temporary superintendents, and about a dozen carloads of material have been received.

It is understood that the work will be pushed with as much rapidity as is consistent with thoroughness in construction and an effort will be made to complete the grading of the entire right of way before snow flies. It is now possible to place in position a portion of the tracks before cold weather stops the work.

The new line will be between 15 and 20 miles in length and will connect Somerset with the coal fields of the Jenner region. The route will parallel the tracks of the Pittsburgh, Westmoreland & Somerset railroad for three miles to Husband, running in a westerly direction. From Husband the road will curve sharply and run almost due north to Acosta, or Belmont, about six miles north of Somerset. Thence lines will tap the coal fields now being mined in a number of places. The road will be double track and it is the intention of the B. & O. company to use it almost exclusively as a coal road, leaving the present lines of the Somerset & Cambria branch for passenger and fast freight, and it is understood that the present passenger service from Rockwood to Johnsonburg will be improved, and may be equipped with Pullman service.

The present plans of the contractors are to construct the portion of the new line between Somerset and Husband with as great rapidity as possible, and work on this portion will be rushed from both ends but the main base of supplies for the present will be Somerset. As soon as this portion of the line is finished the base of supplies will be moved to Husband and the remainder of the lines will be completed as soon as possible. It is stated that the portion of the road between Somerset and Husband will be completed by the latter part of August.

This contract involves the expenditure of at least half a million in money, and about 500 men will be employed. In the work of grading and the preliminary excavation steam implements will be used and every means that may make for haste will be employed.

At this time the work is under the supervision of several temporary superintendents, but L. G. Shoemaker of the firm of contractors who are to build the road will arrive in Somerset this week and will give the work his personal attention.

It is stated that the plans of the B. & O. are to consolidate all their properties and roundhouses in the new yards which will be located at Somerset in the near future, and it is likely that the work of constructing the new yards and freight depot there will be commenced later in the year. At present the coal mines in Somerset county are hauled to Cumberland or Confluence, distances of 60 and 30 miles respectively, to be weighed, and this is a matter which is said to cause great inconvenience to the B. & O.

The yards at Somerset will be thoroughly equipped with scales, roundhouses, shops, etc., and will enable the road to care for its rolling stock, which will be increased owing to the new lines, and to attend to the weighing of the coal trains with much less difficulty.

It has been reported to the authorities that Henry Wehse has lighted the lime kiln along Connel run, below the Connelville garage. The kiln was erected about a year ago, at which time Burgess Evans declined to give permission to light it.

An article in the Perryopolis Items on last Thursday about the laxn fete held by the Perryopolis Concert Band on last Monday evening caused much comment among some of the players and others as well and the reporter wishes to explain the item. It was no remark that the item should cause reflection in any way against the band. It simply stated that the attendance was not so good as it might have been if there had not been so many people spending their Fourth out of town. The article was more of a rebuke against the town people for not attending and giving their aid to a local institution instead of supporting out of town institutions. The writer simply meant that the attendance was not so good as it might have been had everyone supported the function as they should have done. Persons who made any kick against the article simply misunderstood it or conceived the wrong impression while reading it.

MORE ABOUT THE PROPOSED BOROUGH BOND ISSUES.
Both the proposed borough bond issues are elsewhere ably and earnestly defended by a citizen and Connelville whose public services and personal character are such as to entitle his statements and deductions to respectful consideration at the hands of the people of Connelville.

He points out that funding bonds are not only essential to protecting the credit of the borough from serious impairment, but that they will speedily economy in public expenditure. He reminds the taxpayers that the outstanding debt will have to be paid, no matter under what circumstances, and that actual fraud is not involved, and that unless it is paid out of the proceeds of a refunding bond issue the borough will have to face suits and pay costs.

He might have added that when these claims have been prosecuted to judgment, they will have to be settled. The courts will direct their payment, as Chairman Thomas suggests with costs. They will have to be met with whatever money there is in the general fund, and when that is exhausted by a special tax levy which will be ordered by the court. A civic corporation cannot escape the payment of its just debts when they are contracted by its officers any more than any other corporation can. Corporations are like individuals in this respect. The law requires them to pay their debts.

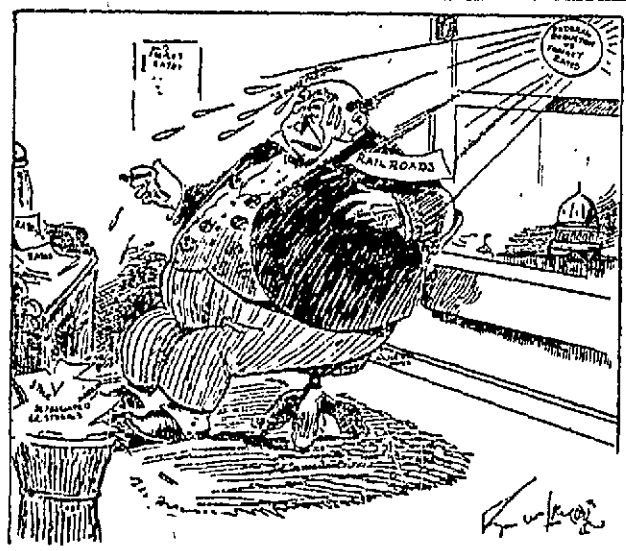

The result of this possible condition would be disastrous as well as expensive. The general fund would be gutted and there would be no money to meet the ordinary expenses of borough government. This would mean, perhaps no police or fire protection, and it might mean no light, no water, no clean streets, no enforcement of sanitary regulations. It might mean conditions that would threaten the community with disease and death, robbery and confiscation, an almost total absence of the comforts of home; in short, conditions that would make Connelville a place from which everybody would want to flee.

It seems quite plain, therefore, that every consideration of sound business policy and good common sense speaks emphatically in favor of the $35,000 refunding bond proposition.

Concerning the $25,000 street improvement issue, we see no reason why it should not be approved in view of the statement, accompanied by actual figures, of Chairman Thomas, showing that these bonds can be carried without increasing the rate of taxation. But this is objected to on the part of some taxpayers who say that, while they think it can be done, they are afraid it will not be done. They say the business of the town has been recklessly managed in the past, and that it may be no more managed in the future; that town Councils have not always had the public interest at heart, but rather the private interests of the members; that there are not enough good business men in the town Council, and that good plans go often fall because of poor execution.

This is pessimism, but it is not without some foundation. However, there are no undertakings in life which are not accompanied by chances of some sort, and so it is with borough government; but we desire to say in this connection that borough government is largely what the business men of the community make it. Town Councilmen and School Directors are usually chosen from the ranks of good business men when that element of the community takes an interest in local politics and seeks the offices with the same earnestness which it seeks the advancement of its business affairs. When business men sit back and refuse to take part in the nominating primaries and the elections, they should not complain of the results. Perhaps the passage of these bond propositions will lead to a very desirable reform in these directions; if so, the fact furnishes another argument in support of the bond issues.

The report that J. Wilbur Brown is about to sever his connection with the West Penn system lacks official confirmation, and we hope that confirmation will continue lacking. As one of the directing heads of the Connelville coke region trolley system, Mr. Brown has been alert and aggressive in the promotion of the company's business, just and considerate in his relations with his subordinates, and at all times careful of the safety and comfort of the travelling public, as a citizen of Connelville, he has been public-spirited, progressive and popular; and if Connelville parts with him at all, she parts with regret.

The fight picture dealers are unfolding their rubber films and getting ready to fight wherever the crowd is drawn. They seem to have struck an unlikely proposition, but they have hopes that the crowd of artists will subsidize and everything will be lovely. It probably will. The newspapers continue to print "fight" pictures.

The railroad rate-and-wage questions remain unsettled, but they will probably adjust themselves equitably to all interests with the assistance of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Candidate Black wasn't satisfied until he got that McKeenport ballot box opened and had a recount of the votes, and he isn't satisfied now with the evidence of his own eyes. We four Candidates Black is determined to be discredited. He is mentioning the intelligence of the voters of Allegheny county, and all industrial Pennsylvania, are viewing the situation with equanimity.

That Dunbar dynamite will blow somebody up yet.

The trout season has not been good except for those who went after the trout right.

That Dunbar dynamite story seems to grow as it goes. He never forgets to mention it. He never forgets to mention it. He never forgets to mention it.

The final distribution of the Darr mine relief fund is a forcible illustration of the fact that such funds are more easily and quickly raised than thought and properly distributed.

The rumor that the price of natural gas is to be advanced is not confirmed. It is not unreasonable. Between the Standard Oil Company and the proposed act of the State of Pennsylvania, the price of natural gas is to be advanced.

The Western Maryland does some fine availing when it comes to the valleys and streams.

The gold brick is still fashionable in dear old Brooklyn.

Colonel Roosevelt has announced himself as favorable to the election of Senator Beveridge and Senator Lodge. He certainly makes no discrimination between insurgents and regulars and his example is worthy of emulation. He recognizes no factions and by his position emphasizes his desire to eliminate them. The Republican party had too many kickers at Washington this winter and it is high time the Republican voters were forgetting the fact that in Union there is strength in Disunion.

Dunbar's industries are preparing to enlarge if they can depend upon Western Maryland assistance.

T. R. stands by his friends regardless of the faction.

P. Chase Knox has a judicial sound.

Railroad construction is different from what it formerly was. The pick and the barrow have been supplanted by the steam shovel and the dinky dump train. The Western Maryland is being constructed through these modern agencies hence the probability of its being quickly completed. Yet there are some people who are pessimistic enough to think that the Western Maryland's extension to Connelville will not be built. Gabriel will have to give these people written notice of the arrival of the Judgment Day.

The recent storms have passed us kindly by, but we have our fingers crossed just the same.

The Western Maryland is coming with a full head of steam on.

A former schoolmaster narrowly escaped being elected President of the National Educational Association. He was beaten by a woman and his campaign manager is uncertain enough to state that he was defeated by the use of money. He ought to have had a Fayette county Discernment managing his campaign.

Colonel Bryan declines to be a United States Senator. His decision is hard to understand. The rules of the Senate permit unlimited debate.

The farmers of Fayette county are willing to exchange a little rain for a little sunshine.

Holliverson gets her free bridge. It's Brownsville's turn now.

Russia and Japan, into belligerence, are reported to have formed a political partnership to race in Manchuria and arm it on the shores. The detestable policy of Connelville is travelling fast and far.

Snydertown wants to be brought up to grade. It is a worthy ambition.

Hot in Indiana Says C.D. Barkley, B. & O. Crane Man

C. D. Barkley, writing from Syracuse, Ind., states that he is a resident of Connelville and that he always thought it was hot here, but after going out to Indiana he learned what really hot weather is. From July 2 to 4, the temperature reached 100 and 104 out in his vicinity.

Barkley is a floating crane man on the B. & O. railroad. He states also that in the evenings he can go out for a couple of hours and at Wavasse Lake catch 18 or 20 fish, and that there is no end of frogs, rabbits and turtles. He is located 35 miles from Garrett, Ind., and during the two months that he has been there they have only had two slight showers of rain. Corn in the vicinity is knee high but cherries were all killed by the frost.

Frick Veterans Picnic at Killarney on Next Thursday

Invitations have been issued for the fourth annual picnic of the Frick Veterans' Association to be held Thursday, July 21, at Killarney park. A special train will leave the B. & O. depot at 8:45 A. M., and will go through to Killarney park without change arriving there about 10 o'clock.

The train will leave in the evening at 6:30 o'clock and will arrive in Connelville at 8:30 P. M. For the accommodation of persons not wishing to take baskets, arrangements have been made with the Killarney Hotel to serve meals. Extensive arrangements are being made for the outing and a most enjoyable day is looked forward to by the veterans, their families and friends.

WHEAT FAIR, OATS HEAVY.

Harvest of former is exceptionally late this season.

Wheat harvest in Fayette county comes about the 15th or 20th of July, this year. It usually is harvested six weeks after coming in head, and was exceptionally late this season. There will be only a fair crop. Oats will be one of the heaviest crops ever expected in this season. In the eastern and mountain part of the county people are sowing and preparing to sow their buckwheat. Fruit is a failure.

Alternating spells of rain and sun have made a fine crop of corn, and potatoes.

Will Elect Dunbar Teachers.

The Dunbar township school board will meet next Thursday at the High School building at Lelansburg No. 1 to elect teachers for the remaining schools in the township.

DEATHS.

William Bennett. Following an illness of four months, William Bennett, aged 58 years, three months and 15 days, died yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock at his late home on the corner of Tenth street and French avenue. Four months ago Mr. Bennett contracted pneumonia which, with other complications which followed, resulted in his death. Thursday afternoon Mr. Bennett became unconscious and remained in that state up until his death.

Mr. Bennett was born in Scotland and came to this country 22 years ago settling in Connelville. He later resided at Wheeler and Trotter, and 11 years ago he returned to Connelville with his family. He was at one time employed as office foreman of the Plummer mine, the W. J. Ratney mine at the Harrodsburg, and the Marston mine. For the past few years he had been in the employ of the B. & O. Frick Coke Company at Davidson. Mr. Bennett was a member of the Masons of Scotland, and of the Odd Fellows of Connelville. He was well known throughout the coke region and his many friends will learn of his death with the deepest regret. He was married to Miss Elizabeth Patterson of Scotland who with the following children survive: David Bennett, of Tower Hill No. 1, Dunbar; William, Jr., of Dunbar; Alexander, John, James, Elizabeth and Isabelle, all at home. One grandson, who was born shortly before the death of Mr. Bennett, died of the same illness. Rev. G. M. Watson of the Christian Church, Rev. B. Lord of the Methodist Church, will officiate.

THE FRUIT CROP IS MUCH VARIED

Says Stato Inspector J. S. Briggs While at Scottsdale

AN ACCIDENT FROM RUSTY NAIL

Local Viewers Appointed For Mt. Bible Class Plans—Newsboys Warned of Danger on Street Cars—Other Notes.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, July 8.—After an inspection of the greater part of the State, J. S. Briggs, Stato Inspector for the Department of Agriculture, being attached to Prof. H. A. Surber's department, says that the fruit conditions are greatly varied. Prof. Briggs came here last evening to visit James B. Fretts, the fruit grower a mile west of town, whose orchard has been one of the Stato's demonstration ones. Mr. Briggs says that many places have known nothing of cold spells, while others have been heavily laden with fruit, and even very near together fruit and no fruit conditions are found. His visit here this time is to look over the orchards, make suggestions as to cultivation, fertilizing, thinning out fruit, and to discuss the continuance of the orchards as a Stato demonstration one. He is now examining the results of work done during two previous visits to this section, and suggesting what should be done to further carry out the work then started. Mr. Briggs is now doing the work of three inspectors, appropriations in the interests of the farmers having been nearly exhausted and only a limited number of the best inspectors being retained. He has been added to the list of farmers' institute speakers and has the ability to increase the interest of institute work just as he did during the orchard demonstrations. Mr. Briggs was here but a short time on account of lack of time and much work to be done.

Having Hard Luck.
J. Allan Porter, a young farmer living a mile west of town, has had luck for the last week. One of his horses had a sore foot that prevented any use of him, and might before last Mr. Porter stepped on a rusty nail which penetrated his foot making a painful and dangerous wound. Immediate medical attention was given, but the wound is quite a bad one. Now both horse and man are laid up at a bad time for agricultural delays.

At Trotter Today.
The Fretts Schoolhouse to Trotter this afternoon to do battle with P. J. Trotter's Trotter Union, and expect to bring home some prizes.

Appointed Read Viewers.
Survivor John L. Hengstler and Albert L. Porter of Scottsdale and Jesse Fox of Altoona have been appointed by the court of Westmoreland county as viewers to view a new road petitioned for in Mt. Pleasant township. The date of the view has been set for Thursday, July 21.

The Soldiers' Outing.
The Civil War veterans of Scottsdale and vicinity are planning for their big annual outing to the farm of James Wilson, over near Dettler's mill, which will be this year on July 23. For a number of years the outings have been great events of the summer and plans are being made to have this trip the jolliest one yet. The veterans will travel over in wagons, but should the day be an ugly one the outing will be changed from the Wilson farm to Haverhill Park.

Doreas Festival Planned.
The Doreas Bible Class of the Jacobs Creek Methodist Episcopal Church, which is a very active class, has planned to hold a summer evening festival at the Albert Bench home in the brick house just above the Keister mill, on Saturday evening, July 16, beginning at 6 o'clock. The usual good things will be present, and the festival is being held for the benefit of the church.

Services This Evening.
The street meeting at Pittsburgh street and Broadway this evening at 7 o'clock will have for its chief speaker, Rev. T. B. Shugart, the pastor of the Scottsdale Christian Church. The new minister is an active and zealous young man and just the kind to attract to such a service as that of this evening.

Temperance Picnic.
A basket picnic will be held by the Temperance Light Workers of Scottsdale in the Keister woods at the edge of town all day of Thursday, July 11. The Light Workers are a juvenile organization, auxiliary to the W. C. T. U., and in charge of Mrs. William Dursfield.

Presiding on Sunday.
The Sunday afternoon services at Jacobs Creek Methodist Episcopal Church will be held at 3 o'clock and Rev. J. L. Haddleton will preach. This young minister who is a wonder for work is now filling five distant regular appointments and three extra ones. Jacobs Creek tomorrow being one. He is but 20 years of age, and works nearly everywhere he goes. Some folks say he is a very good young man, and he preaches a very good sermon in the people of the neighborhood at Jacobs Creek and they are anxious to have him back again.

Married at Cumberland.
Charles Schlicht and Miss Catherine Pearl Dotling, both of Uniontown, were granted a marriage license in Cumberland on Thursday.

LAST DAY OF OLD HOME WEEK BIG ONE AT MT. PLEASANT.

Automobile Parade This Evening Will be Feature and Several Miles of Automobiles Promise to be in Line.

Speech of Governor Stuart Yesterday—Water Battle of the Firemen.

Special to The Courier.
MT. PLEASANT, July 8.—After the speaking at the Armory yesterday Governor Edwin S. Stuart and his party were entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Shupe at their residence in the East End. After dinner the party took a final auto spin over the principal streets of the town and left the junction at the foot of Main street about 3 o'clock. In a West Penn special car, which carried them as far as Greensburg. From Greensburg Governor Stuart and Deputy Attorney General J. E. B. Cunningham left for Harrisburg.

The firemen's parade formed at the lower end of Main street and began to move promptly at 2:30 o'clock. The following was the order of formation. Mounted police, Chief Marshall and Aides, Bridgeport Band, members of the committee in five automobiles, the Greensburg Firemen, numbering about 175, the Youngwood Fire Department of about 10 men, Pollack Band, fire wagon, Standard Fire Department, consisting of four companies and about 60 men, Mount Pleasant Band, Mount Pleasant Firemen, two companies; Italian Band, Third Ward Mount Pleasant Firemen, Hook and Ladder Company, old fire engine, citizens in carriages and on foot.

The route of parade followed the principal streets of the town. Other features that drew large crowds of spectators was the death leap on a bicycle and the spiral ball and balloon ascension.

The water battle on Church street between the members of the Monaca and Mount Pleasant fire companies resulted in a victory for the Mount Pleasant boys after a drizzling battle of about 20 minutes. The spectators assembled in large numbers and those who were considered lucky who did not get their clothes soaked by a drizzling stream from one of the hoses. The feature was a novelty and a success. The Big Otto Carnival which occupied East Washington street for two blocks has been running almost day and night to accommodate the large crowds of amusement seekers who throng the streets from morning to night looking for somewhere to spend their money. The carnival is a popular one and maintaining one of the most complete and up-to-date of any carnival on the road, giving some very new performances along that line.

Nothing of any consequence is scheduled for today until late in the afternoon when it is expected to have one of the largest automobile parades ever seen in Western Pennsylvania. The committee extends invitation for every owner of a car in the western part of the Stato to take part. Today will be carnival day when everyone will take in that amusement. Tonight everyone will bid goodbye to their many friends, their hosts and will leave for their homes in various parts of the Union and Mount Pleasant's Old Home Week will be a matter of history, a celebration that Mount Pleasant will look back to with pleasure and pride.

N. A. Cort, a local attorney, opened the speaking at the Governor's reception today by stating that the homecoming celebration was the result of a great deal of energy. "Few communities are honored like this one by having for its guests such a distinguished body of people," said Mr. Cort, "while it is thus we lay claim to such distinction. Among us is one who went out from us over a score of years ago. One who learned patriotism in this community. An honored man. He needs no introduction. It gives me infinite pleasure to introduce to you Hon. J. E. B. Cunningham, Deputy Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

Hon. J. E. B. Cunningham's discourse was the most eloquent on the program. He said:

"Thirty-five years has brought a great change into the quiet and restful town of my boyhood, nestled as it is in the quiet agricultural regions of the Stato. The shady streets and the low willow tree with its great branches over the town pump located on the corner of Church and Main streets and many other scenes of my childhood are things of the past. The trees have been in many instances destroyed where the village pump once stood. Large buildings have been erected in short, the entire atmosphere of the place has been changed. Thirty years ago a foreigner was a novelty. Now they are very common and make up the majority of the population."

Mr. Cunningham went on to describe the Mt. Pleasant of thirty years ago. He concluded with introducing the Governor of the Stato, Hon. Edwin S. Stuart. Governor Stuart said:

"I did not come to your city expressly for the purpose of making an address, but I came to take part in the Old Home week celebration. About two weeks ago Mr. Cunningham came into my executive office and telling me the way he talked you would have thought that Mt. Pleasant was the one great place in the Stato. After talking for some time he convinced me that it would be to my advantage to come down to this quiet old Western town. So that explains my presence here today. It certainly gives me great pleasure to be here breathing fresh air instead of being in the executive office performing the duties that fall to me and many of which are unpleasant. And I will show my appreciation by helping celebrate Old Home Week. At this time an old story presents itself to my memory."

At school where I went when a boy there was a Director whose hobby was putting the children through a drill. Upon every occasion that presented itself to him he would take his place upon the platform and address the students. His introduction was always the same, "What would you do in case of fire?" The students, who were carefully prepared, always replied, "Fall in line and march down stairs." Now a very amusing thing occurred one morning. The Director was in good humor. As usual he took his stand on the platform and began by saying, "What would you do if I should shut for you this morning?" "Fall in line and march down stairs," quickly responded the well-trained students. While I think of it I wish to call your attention to the public schools. Their importance cannot be described by me. The West Penn house that is built is another prop added to the perpetuity of this nation. The most important thing in this country is the observance of the law. I would rather lose my right arm than tread on a cat, or speak so that I could be given the honor and the old lady. Yes, no more under the same conditions as exist in the following story. An old grandfather once said to her grandson, "John, go and get some eggs and set the hen." Following the instructions the son returned. "John, did you set the hen?" said the old lady. "Yes," replied the son. "How many eggs did you put under her?" asked the grandmother. "Seventy-two," said the boy. "Why did you put so many eggs under her?" said the astonished old lady. "I wanted to see the damned old thing spread herself," said the boy.

New I think that the people invited me to speak so that I could be given the opportunity of spreading myself. Mr. Gregg's remarks were brief and dealt mostly with the discussing of Governor Stuart's character and the introducing of ex-Lieutenant Governor John Latta of Greensburg.

Mr. Latta is an old fashioned gentleman and his address on our great subject for the country in which we live was very interesting. This concluded the program of the morning.

During the week several shows not strictly moral drifted into town and opened for business. The Municipal Association of this place heard of it and last evening all the immoral shows were closed down as were all peddle wheels and games of chance. Everything is now moral and the business of the shows has been materially increased.

Harry Glantz, the shipman, went up in his dirigible balloon about 7 o'clock last evening. After sailing about half a mile his motor suddenly stopped and the huge ship darted toward the earth. Eye witnesses say that he was within three feet of the earth when his motor started, sending the airship upward. After sailing around in the air for a few minutes he took the machine back to its tent.

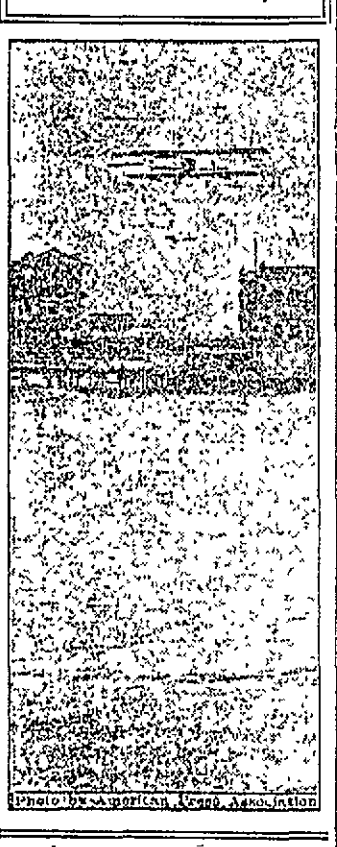

LOST HER BABY

Foreign Woman Was in a Great Strain at Uniontown.

UNIONTOWN, July 8.—A foreign woman came to town yesterday afternoon with her children, to shop. A baby she carried in her arms, but the older child was able to walk and she left him out on the sidewalk and she went inside. As he was only two years old he soon wandered off and his mother never saw him again. The child was found by a passerby and taken to the police station. A large crowd collected and aided in the search, which ended in South street where Officer Joseph Brown found the child in tears.

GREEN ROOM CHAT.

Taylor Stock Co. Opens Monday.
The stock season at the Solson theatre this summer has been a decided success and manager Robbins will have his own company next season, opening the summer season in May. Commencing Monday night the Taylor Stock Company will open at the Solson in the beautiful play "Carmen." This company has been filling engagements in Washington, Pa., Akron, Canton and East Liverpool, Ohio, and they are this week in New Castle. The papers in these different places have highly praised the company and the productions they give. Their opening play here is "Carmen" and the clientele of the Solson will witness a splendid performance. Seat sale opens today at the theatre.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere—seemed never to achieve a healthy growth?

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a cancer eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of the plant which causes it to fail.

Newbro's Horripole destroys the germ, and healthy plant is the sure result.

LYNCHING AT NEWARK, OHIO.

Anti-Saloon Detective Is Strung Up by Citizens.

SALOON KEEPER SHOT AND SLAIN

Day of Terror and Rioting in Newark Ends in Hanging After Jail Doors Are Battered Down—Twenty Dry Detectives Descend on Newark.

Newark, O., July 9.—"Send my love to mother and tell her I died in the performance of my duty." With this message on his lips Carl Etherington, an anti-saloon detective, was hanged to a telephone pole at the southeast corner of the public square last night as the climax of a day of terror in Newark.

The mob that dragged Etherington from the Licking county jail and put him to death was goaded to fury by the shooting earlier in the day of William Howard, a saloonkeeper and former city policeman. Etherington is said to have fired the shot that caused Howard's death.

Early in the morning Edward Hale, a detective employed by the State Anti-Saloon league, came to this city with a force of twenty men. He was armed with warrants to seize the places conducted by Charles Henry, Schlegel Brothers and L. J. Bolton. The affidavits against the three establishments, charging illegal selling of liquor, had been filed in the court of Mayor Thomas C. Grunwald.

Liquor Men Taken Unawares. The first intimation that raids had been planned was several hours later, when a dozen men, strangers in the city, congregated in the witness room of the common pleas court. They were non-committal when questioned and said they were waiting for others. Little significance was attached to their presence and the liquor men were taken off their guard. Hale divided his men into three squads, which simultaneously descended upon the places under suspicion.

When Bolton's place was invaded by Hale and his men, followed by the arrest of McKenna and other employees of the place, Hale came out into the street and left two of his men in the establishment, while an effort was made to get a transfer wagon to remove the goods and paraphernalia. Not an owner of a wagon in Newark could be induced to take the job. The place was locked with the two detectives still inside.

All was quiet for a little while and Hale started with his prisoners for the county jail. At this juncture someone threw a watermelon through a window of the place and the men inside fired five shots out into the street. The fight started at once.

Shooting of Howard. While Hale and some of his men were battling with the crowd in the street, a boy running through an alley past the Bolton place announced to the mob that two men who had been left inside had made their getaway. They had left by a back door and soon outdistanced pursuers. In the meantime Hale and his companions were battling with the mob and the shooting of Howard followed.

Hale later appeared at the county jail, as did McKenna and another man who had been hurt in the fight. All received surgical attention at the hands of Dr. J. P. H. Steadman. The leader of the detectives said: "My name is Ed Hale and I come from Columbus. I had charge of these men, but it wouldn't do any good to tell what their names are."

At each place the proprietor, along with attendants and loungers, was hustled into the street. The stock of goods, glasses and paraphernalia was confiscated. At Henry's and Schlegel Brothers no violence was offered, but at Bolton's a fight started. Saloon sympathizers, attracted by the excitement, swarmed to be placed and joined in the disturbance, which quickly assumed the proportions of a riot.

Bloes were exchanged and stones and sticks hurled. Several men were hurt. Hale, who was leading the squad of detectives, was struck on the head and received a severe scalp wound. Jack McKeen, an employee of Bolton, was similarly hurt, as was another man, who disappeared before his name could be learned.

As the hostile mob grew in size Hale and his men decided to abandon their purpose and, giving up all attempt to make arrests, they fled, chased by the angry crowd of Bolton's friends. The fugitives ran west through Canal street with the crowd of saloon adherents at their heels. Just as capture seemed imminent one of the detectives, said to have been Etherington, turned, leveled a revolver and fired. The bullet struck William Howard, who fell in his tracks.

The shooting stopped pursuit momentarily and the detectives found shelter. The wounded man was carried to the Newark sanitarium, where it was found that the bullet had entered the abdomen and, taking an upward course, had emerged near the left shoulder. Physicians at the sanitarium from the first held out little hope of Howard's recovery. Word of his condition soon reached the streets and the mob of saloon sympathizers howled for vengeance.

MERRY WAR ON IN WASHINGTON FOR SENATORSHIP.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 9.—Miles Polindexter is on his way home with the assurance that Colonel Roosevelt will support him in his race for the United States Senate. Representative Polindexter represents the district in which Secretary Ballinger lives and is one of the most bitter foes of Mr. Ballinger. Polindexter will try to oust Senator Miles, known as a "Taft man." The result of this fight promises to be most interesting. Mr. Ballinger when he heard that Roosevelt had O. K'd Polindexter is quoted as saying, "I am on my way to Seattle, and I can promise that Mr. Polindexter will not be the next United States Senator from Washington."

ROOSEVELT IN DEMAND.

Congressional Candidate in All Parts of the County West Him.

Washington, July 9.—Politicians here believe that Theodore Roosevelt will be an active figure on the stump in the coming congressional campaign. He has already made two engagements, one to speak in Massachusetts and the other to speak in Indiana in the interests of Senator Beveridge. A third public appearance is in prospect. If the Ohio Republicans nominate either Sen. La Follette or James A. Garfield as their gubernatorial candidate Roosevelt probably will be persuaded to make a speech or two in that state.

Up in the northwest there is a demand that Colonel Roosevelt appear in behalf of a number of candidates and politicians remaining in Washington say that he will not be able to refuse now that he has accepted invitations from Massachusetts and Indiana. Once Roosevelt gets going he will take a swing around the circle, touching the districts in which he is interested.

It became known here that James Garfield has still hopes of landing the gubernatorial nomination in Ohio. He has in his possession a letter written to him by President Taft assuring him of support if he is the choice of the Ohio convention. It is needless to say that this letter has written a long time before Garfield was projected into the Taft "in bad club" by reason of the open support of the Pinchot side of the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy. There is a prospect that the Taft letter to Garfield may be made public at the proper time.

PENNSY'S PENSION PLAN

Details of Proposed Voluntary Relief Scheme Given Out.

Altoona, Pa., July 9.—The committee appointed to draft a pension plan for the Pennsylvania railroad's voluntary relief department, composed of L. W. Watts, R. G. Worley and D. B. English, is sending out circulars to the members outlining details. Each member will contribute 2 cents a day in addition to the regular dues, which will entitle him to a pension of $25 a month upon retirement. The pension is voluntary at sixty years of age, without medical examination, after thirty years' service, and is compulsory at seventy years. Any member permanently incapacitated through sickness or accident will receive a pension upon certification by the proper physicians.

BURIED IN AVALANCHE

Two Parties of Tourists in Alps Overwhelmed.

Grindonwald, Switzerland, July 9.—An avalanche overwhelmed two parties of Alpinists near the Bergli hut. Seven, including three guides, were rescued. They are seriously hurt. Five others cannot be found and were supposed killed. Two were Germans. It is stated the missing include two men.

The disaster happened on the Jungfrau glacier.

Persisting in Public Speaking. Philadelphia, July 9.—Declining the offer of a police magistrate to free him if he would promise to discontinue his attempts to speak in public, James Eads How, known as the "millionaire hobo," was held under $500 bail to keep the peace.

Killed Divorced Wife. Charleston, W. Va., July 9.—Marcellus Penn, colored, it is said, shot and fatally wounded his divorced wife, Lillian Penn and Taylor Bandolph, colored. Penn was arrested.

THRILLERS FOR RESORT CROWDS.

Aviators Pull Off Some Fancy Stunts at Atlantic City.

NO ATTEMPT TO BREAK RECORD

Curtiss and Brookins, Expert Aero-Planists, Make Spectacular Flights Over the Sea—One Tries to Outdo the Other.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 9.—Soaring aeroplanes that climbed 2,000 feet into the air, then swooped down and darted along the crowded boardwalk; fancy stunts by Glenn Curtiss and Walter Brookins in their air crafts kept the Atlantic City crowd of thousands in a tremor of excitement during the biggest day of the week's sports meet.

As a sensational finish Curtiss calmly soared off to Ventnor, dropped gently on the sand stretch of Ventnor Heights paid a call on a friend while the crowd worked itself into frenzy of excitement and then as calmly glided back in front of the cheering crowd. No attempt was made at record, Brookins' highest flight not being over half the high altitude figures.

Curtiss gave a remarkable exhibition of dips when he rose and crossed Brookins' wake to get sea and air room enough for his evolutions. To the thrilled spectators, however, the double exhibition was an exposition of the real daring of the up-to-date aviator and their wonderful control of their machines.

Flitting about 200 feet in the air Brookins first swept around in wide circles, which he narrowed until he was swooping in what appeared to be 100-foot diameter within 100 feet of the crowd, who cheered as the daring young aviator took off his hat and waved it.

Not to be outdone, Curtiss, after a flight out to sea suddenly swooped into the beach, whirled with the agility of a swallow and gave the remarkable exhibition of dip in a manner that swept the boardwalk with cheers. His plane ducked and whirled, tossing first one and then the other wing in the air as he shot out and back over the surf only a few feet from the spectators. Both landings were made with the greatest smoothness, Brookins having been in the air for 9 minutes and 33 seconds; Curtiss six minutes.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Very Satisfactory Reports of Business Have Been Received.

New York, July 9.—Dun's Review of Trade says today:

"From several of the important trade centers very satisfactory reports as to general business are received. But on the other hand there is an entire lack of buoyancy in several of the important industries."

"Quiet conditions in iron and steel are to be expected at this season, industrial plants following the usual custom of shutting down for inventories and repairs during the early part of July. In some instances, and particularly in the Chicago district, steel mills remain open because orders booked are sufficiently numerous to afford employment through the summer. The reduction in output of pig iron since February is placed at 10 per cent."

TWENTY-ONE ARE INDICTED

Grand Jury Delivers Into Election Scandal at Scranton, Pa.

Scranton, Pa., July 9.—Recommendations that indictments be drawn against twenty-one men, seventeen of them members of the election boards of Lackawanna township, the Third ward and the Second district of the Sixth ward of Taylor borough, the special grand jury that has spent the week investigating the frauds perpetrated in three districts at the primary election held June 4 last, came into court with its presentments.

Further sessions are promised. Several of the men, it is reported, are ready to come back and tell all. Their stories, it is said, will involve men higher up.

WILL ANSWER PARTY'S CALL

Harmon Will Be Candidate For Presidency If He Is Wanted.

Charlevoix, Mich., July 9.—Governor Harmon of Ohio declared his attitude toward a presidential nomination at the close of a political meeting here in conversation with friends. "I will be a candidate for the presidency on the Democratic ticket if the nomination comes a party call," he said. "It's all a matter of party duty with me now." Governor Harmon is spending the summer here, but is not engaging actively in politics.

VICTORIA REPORTED ENGAGED

Rumor Current Young Princess Is to Marry Prince Edward.

London, July 9.—A rumor is current here that Prince Edward and Princess Victoria Louise are engaged. It is said that the betrothal is not sanctioned by the royal family, owing to the ages of the prince and princess, who are both in their teens.

WANT FORBES TO TELL OF LAND SALES.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Chairman John E. Martin of the Committee on Insular Affairs of the House of Representatives refuses to discuss the charges of Representative Martin of Colorado that the sale of fair lands in the Philippines was not an open transaction.

Chairman Martin, who is one of the biggest scandalmongers that ever confronted the United States government, is expected that Governor General Forbes can throw much light on what Representative Martin terms "the one of the biggest scandals that ever confronted the United States government."

President Washington D. Thomas of the sugar trust declares that his company is not and has not been interested in the sale of the sugar lands of the Philippines.

GET LICENSE TO WED

Divorced Mrs. Gould and Young Thomas Obtain Necessary Papers.

New York, July 9.—Mrs. Helen Kelly Gould, divorced wife of Frank J. Gould, and Ralph Will Thomas, nephew of Washington D. Thomas, president of the American Sugar Refining company, have obtained a marriage license.

In her application for her license Mrs. Gould gave the name of Mrs. Helen Kelly Gould, aged twenty-six. Mr. Thomas said he was twenty-eight years old and was in the sugar refining business.

Rumor has had it that the Thomas Gould wedding would take place with in the next week. It is also reported that Mr. Thomas has already engaged steamship passage for Europe and that the two will spend their honeymoon on foreign shores.

HUNTING TRAIN WRECKERS

Believed Striking Delaware and Hudson Section Hands Are Responsible.

Carbondale, Pa., July 9.—Two trains were wrecked on the Delaware and Hudson railroad near this city and it is believed that some of the 1,230 striking section hands are responsible. A heavy coal train, northbound, was wrecked, a bolt having been pulled from a switch on a heavy grade. This was just sufficient to derail the heavy train and cause considerable damage without injuring anyone. Later a train composed of empty passenger cars was derailed in a similar manner.

The chief of detectives and fifteen of his deputies reached the scene and are now trying to find the wreckers.

BOYS WERE TIED TO TRACKS

First Robbed, Then Stunned—Heads Are Crushed to Pulp by Train.

Birmingham, Ala., July 9.—After being robbed and struck over the head by the bodies of Jeff and William King, aged nineteen and sixteen years respectively, were tied on the track of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, near Warrior, twenty miles from Birmingham, and a train passed over them, mashing their heads to a pulp. This is the view taken by Coroner Dearborn, who is making a full investigation. It was impossible for the boys to have been struck by a train and then ground up as they were. They could not have gone to sleep on the tracks either. Small pieces of rope were found near by.

Elizabeth's Woe. Hamilton, O., July 9.—Mrs. Elizabeth Dodge, after withdrawing her suit for divorce from her husband, John Dodge, a member of the Hamilton police force, changed her mind and refiled the suit. She charges Dodge with squandering his money.

THE SEASON STARTS JULY 18

GOING AFTER GOV. GILLETT

Child's Strange Fate.
Huntington, W. Va., July 9.—The three-year-old child of H. L. Baugardner of Cabell creek was drowned during a heavy storm. The rain came with such terrific force that the child could not make its way against it and was washed into a small creek.

Rev. W. H. Moninger, adult specialist, Prof. J. T. King, superintendent of teacher training, and Rev. J. Walter Carpenter will have charge of the session at Smithfield while the meeting in Brownsville will be in charge of Miss Amy J. Porter of Seaside, Miss Henshi H. Brooks of New York City, Miss Emma Lincoln of Attleboro, and Miss Helen Gill Lovett, of Philadelphia.

SCORE WAS SIX TO FOUR

Davidson played in hard luck yesterday. Things went along nice until the fourth inning. Davidson run three men over the plate in the first inning which made the Trotter aggregation feel blue. In the third inning Trotter got one over, but in the
